To request agreement for the Jubilee Beacon remain in situ at Cuckingstool Mead.

The Beacon was installed to a professional standard with concrete footings/sleeve.

To remove/relocate the Beacon would be invasive to the grass and deeper ground and possibly damage the Beacon.

To remove/relocate the Beacon would involve manpower and machinery (incurring costs) and would have to be suitably risk assessed.

The new location would require thorough investigation and survey as to its suitability for this structure.

If it remains in situ at Cuckingstool Mead it becomes a focal/meeting point for the town and its organisations for future events and gatherings.

Cuckingstool Mead is a large public space which makes this suitable for such events.
